The counsel for the petitioner states that the suits from which these petitions have arisen have since been decided by the Trial Court and hence these petitions preferred with respect to the orders made during the pendency of the suits have become infructuous. It is further stated that the petitioner shall avail the remedies available in law with respect to the grievances in these petitions. The counsel for the respondents has no objection to the petitions being disposed of as aforesaid except for the payment of costs imposed on 18th April, 2009. The counsel for the petitioner states that the costs shall be paid. The petitions and all the pending applications are disposed of.
