% ORDER
16.11.2011

This is a petition under section 482 Cr.P.C. It is informed by the parties that a compromise have been arrived at between the petitioner and respondent No. 2. The learned counsel for respondent No. 2 also confirmed the same and submits that in pursuance of the compromise, he has already withdrawn his criminal revision. The counsel for the petitioner stated that the petitioner had filed a complaint being CC No. 21.02.2011 against the respondent No 2 in which learned ACMM vide order dated 2.5.2011 has directed the concerned SHO to register a FIR and investigate the matter. He submits that he has approached the learned ACMM for withdrawal of the said complaint, but, he was informed that since the court has directed for registration of the FIR to the SHO, the court now cannot order for withdrawal of the complaint.

It is informed by learned counsel for the petitioner and respondent No. 2 that no FIR has so far been registered in pursuance of the said direction dated 2.5.2011 of the learned ACMM.

In view of the compromise arrived at between the parties and there being no grievance left by them against each-other, no useful purpose will be served by continuing with the proceedings as follow up of order dated 2.5.2011.

Consequently, CC No. 21/2/2011, P.S. Dwarka pending in the court of ACMM, Dwarka and all proceedings emanating there from are hereby quashed.

The petition stands disposed of.

Dasti.
