Heard learned counsel for the parties.

Instructions have been obtained by learned Standing Counsel Sri Rahul Malviya, which are taken on record.

As per the instructions vide para 14 it has been stated that the petitioner had been paid entire outstanding dues and the payments depend upon the availability of funds. It is stated further by the learned Standing Counsel that if there is no scarcity of funds and fund is available with Gram Sabha / Gram Panchayat concerned, the payment should be made to the petitioner without any undue delay.

The Court is of the view that this undertaking advanced before the Court as instructions will be taken care of in future.

Learned counsel for the petitioner does not dispute that the entire payments have been cleared. So for regarding future payments, it is submitted that the direction may be issued for payment as and when the same is due to the petitioner.

Since the learned Standing Counsel has given this undertaking on behalf of the State respondents as well as instructions do carry the same statement of fact that petitioner would be paid remuneration as per the availability of fund without any delay, it is directed that undertaking shall be honored, failing which concerned respondents may be liable for contempt.

With these observations and directions, this petition stands disposed of.
