3. On the basis of the said affidavit, Sri.Reuben Jacob., learned Additional Advocate General would submit that respondent No.3 has decided to withdraw the tender process and reissue a fresh tender notification. His submission is that since interim orders which had been passed, it should not be held against respondent No.3, if a fresh tender is issued.
4. The apprehension on the part of the respondents are unfounded, inasmuch as the interim order had been issued only in respect of the current tender process. Since the tender process is being withdrawn and a new tender is going to be issued, the interim order would not be applicable thereto.
5. Reserving liberty to the petitioner and anyone else to participate in the said tender as and when floated, the petition stands disposed in terms of the affidavit which has been filed that the tender having been withdrawn, the petition has been rendered infructuous.
