ORDER

% 18.08.2026

1. The petitioner's husband has been declared as a bad character. In order to keep a vigil on the petitioner's husband, certain steps are required to be taken.
2. It is submitted that there are 32 criminal antecedents against the husband of the petitioner.
3. The Court thus finds that the husband of the petitioner has to challenge the order of declaring him as a bad character, if he so desires.
4. Even otherwise, it is contended by the respondents that there is no breach of the petitioner's fundamental rights and no specific instances have been shown against the respondents in order to establish the violation of fundamental right.

5. The steps which are required to be taken by the respondents pursuant to the husband of the petitioner having been declared as a bad character are being undertaken strictly in accordance with law.

6. In view of the aforesaid, no interference is called for at this stage.

7. With these observations, the petition stands dismissed.
