Order On Board

14/10/2015

Heard.

Learned counsel for the petitioner submits that though initially a petition was filed challenging order (Annexure P-1), now the petitioner, in the changed circumstances, does not wish to challenge the order. He submits that a direction may be issued to the respondent- Registrar, Co-operative Societies to comply with its own direction.

Learned State counsel prays for time.

I am not inclined to grant further time to the respondent-State as the petitioner is not challenging the impugned order but only prays that State Authority may comply with their own direction.

If the order (Annexure P-1) is still in force and existence, it goes without saying that it will be binding on the respondent- Authority and every action would be taken in accordance with the direction issued by the Registrar, Co-operative Societies.

The petition is accordingly disposed off.
