CORAM : SUNIL P. DESHMUKH, J.

DATED : 1st APRIL, 2015

Order :-

1. Petitions have been moved against concurrent findings of fact by the courts below and as such this court is not inclined to interfere with the same in present petitions, although it is being vehemently submitted that various issues arise and that the observations by the revisional court while upholding findings of the labour court are not correct being oblivious of relevant rules. No perversity at this stage is pointed out in the orders impugned.
2. Taking into account aforesaid, interest of justice can be sub-served by observing that the order passed by labour court as well as revisional court shall not influence making of final decision in main complaints and the complaints would be decided by the labour court on their own merits and in accordance with law and facts.
3. Whatever observations are made by the industrial court while deciding interim application in revision, would not contain labour court while it decides the complaints on merits finally. Writ petitions as such, are rejected.
