

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE AT BOMBAY
BENCH AT AURANGABAD

C.A. NO. 5361/2002 IN C.R.A. NO. 546/2001
AND
CIVIL REVISION APPLICATION NO. 546/2001
(Karbhari Kisan Gawali Vs. Mrs. Kesharbai Karbhari Gawali)

Mrs. C.S. Deshmukh, Advocate for the applicant/petitioner
None for the respondent

CORAM : M.T. JOSHI, J.
DATE : 19/03/2015

ORAL ORDER :

Mrs. C.S. Deshmukh, learned counsel for the applicant/petitioner submits that by the passage of time, the present proceedings i.e. civil application as well as civil revision applications have become infructuous. In the circumstances, both the civil application and civil revision application stand disposed of as infructuous, without any order as to costs.

[M.T. JOSHI]
JUDGE