CORAM : R.M. BORDE &

P.R. BORA, JJ.

DATE : 26th FEBRUARY, 2015.

PER COURT :

1. It is not a matter of dispute that the relief claimed in the appeal is rendered infructuous. So far as academic issues raised in the appeal are concerned, it would be open for the appellant to urge the same as and when occasion arises. Letters patent appeal is devoid of substance hence stands dismissed.

2. Pending civil application, if any, does not survive and stands disposed of.
