P.C.

1. This petition challenges the order dated 22nd January, 2013 by which the Family Court, Pune decided the application for interim reliefs filed by the petitioner. By the impugned order the respondent was directed to pay maintenance only to the minor daughter @ Rs.1,000/- per month and the petitioner was denied maintenance for herself.

2. The reason set out in the order for denial of maintenance to the petitioner is that the petitioner has left the matrimonial home without reason. Thereafter, she did not respond to the attempts made by the respondent for reconciliation. The Court further noted that the petitioner has been earning money by taking tuitions and doing work as a beautician. The Court however, granted Rs.500/- as travelling expenses to the petitioner for her every attendance at the Court.

3. Admittedly, the petitioner had not responded to the attempts at reconciliation by the respondent. Also she is better educated than the respondent. She is a graduate, whereas the respondent has studied only upto 12th Standard. Considering the overall circumstances of the case, I find no infirmity in the impugned order. Hence, the petition is dismissed.
