CORAM : A.S. GADKARI, J.
(VACATION COURT)22nd May 2015.*P.C. :

The learned APP at the outset raised a preliminary objection that the present Appeal is not maintainable as the Appellant is challenging the order dated 14th May, 2015 thereby rejecting the application of the Applicant for modification of the bail condition. Be that as it may, I have heard the respective parties on merits. The learned Trial Court by its order dated 16th April, 2015 was pleased to release the Applicant on bail on execution of personal bond in the sum of Rs.40,000/- with one or two solvent sureties in the like amount. In an application before the Sessions Court for modification of the said order, the Sessions Court by its order dated 14th May, 2015 rejected the said application thereby observing that the Applicant has failed to point out any bonafide attempt made on his behalf in procuring two solvent sureties for the said amount.

2. I have perused the record produced before me. I am of the considered opinion that the order passed by the Trial Court dated 16th April, 2015 is just, right and proper and there is no need to interfere in the said order. The present Application is therefore dismissed in limine.
