CORAM : S.C. GUPTE, J.
DATE : 14th OCTOBER, 2015.

P.C.:

1. In these 9 petitions, i.e. Company Petition Nos. 624 of 2013, 126 of 2014, 148 of 2014, 251 of 2014, 514 of 2014, 577 of 2014, 764 of 2014, 772 of 2014, 814 of 2014, separate orders were passed by this Court on 10/03/2015 where-under the respondent-company undertook to pay the dues of the respective petitioners in accordance with payment schedules agreed to between the parties. The petitions were disposed of with a self operative order for admission of the petitions in the event of the respondent committing any default in payment.

2. By a further order dated 12/06/2015, this Court varied the payment schedules by giving extension of time to the respondent to make payment of installments due in July, August and September 2015. The order further provided that the balance installments in each of the petitions payable on and from 15/10/2015 shall be paid in accordance with the original schedule provided for in the order dated 10/03/2015. This arrangement was sanctioned by the Court on an express undertaking of the respondent not to seek any further extension of time. Subsequent to this order, an unsuccessful attempt was made on the part of the respondent-company to relieve itself of the commitment to discharge the petitioners dues in accordance with installments provided for in the orders noted above.

3. The respondent-company sought to avoid the self operative part of order dated 10/03/2015 providing for admission of the petitions in the event of default in payment by filing an appeal. The appeal was filed beyond time. The respondent's application for condonation of delay was rejected by the Appeal Court. The appeals therefore did not survive and the same were dismissed. Between 16/09/2015 and 01/10/2015, there was a stay on the self operative order of 10/03/2015. Immediately after the stay was vacated by the Appeal Court whilst dismissing the appeal on 01/10/2015, the respondent-company duly paid the installment due to the respective petitioners at the earliest opportunity, that is to say, on 05/10/2015, 2nd, 3rd and 4th October being holidays. These payments were duly accepted by the respective petitioners. Further installments due to the respective petitioners on or before 15/10/2015 have also been duly paid by the respondent before the due date.

4. In the premises, the delay of a few days in payment of the installments due on or before 15/09/2015 is condoned and it is directed that the self operative order of admission of the petitions has not come into effect. The respondent-company shall now pay the installments due and payable to each of the petitioners on and from 15/11/2015 in accordance with payment schedules set out in the orders of 10/03/2015.
