DATE : 27.07.2015.

The learned counsel for the parties have tendered a compromise petition in the Court today. The same is accepted on record and marked as 'Annexure-X'.

The compromise petition is signed by the appellant and the respondent and also the counsel for the appellant and the respondent. It is stated in the compromise petition that the appellant-wife has accepted the judgment and decree of the Family Court, dissolving the marriage between the parties by a decree of divorce, as the husband has agreed to pay permanent alimony to the appellant-wife and her only son Bhavishya, amounting to Rs.17,00,000/-. A cheque for an amount of Rs.3,00,000/- is delivered to the appellant-wife along with the four post dated cheques, amounting to Rs.14,00,000/-. The appellant-wife has agreed not to claim any share in the property of the husband and the husband has also relinquished his rights and claim towards the custody of Bhavishya. The custody of the child, according to the parties, would be with the appellant-mother. The appellant-wife has agreed to withdraw all the proceedings, pending in the Court at Amravati and also at Katni.

The parties are personally present in the Court today. They state that they are ad idem on the terms mentioned in the compromise petition. The wife has acknowledged the receipt of the five cheques as mentioned in the compromise petition.

The Family Court Appeal is disposed of in terms of the compromise. A decree be drawn accordingly.
