Heard.

The learned counsel for the parties have tendered a Joint Pursis in the Court today. The same is accepted on record and marked as Article "X". The Joint Pursis is signed by the appellant and the respondent and the counsel for the appellant and the respondent.

It appears from the Joint Pursis that the appellant-wife has given up the challenge to the judgment granting a decree of divorce in favour of the respondent-husband, on the respondent-husband paying a sum of Rs.3,00,000/- (Rupees Three Lakh Only) to the appellant-wife towards full and final settlement. It appears from the Joint Pursis that the respondent-husband has tendered a demand draft of Rs.1,00,000/- (Rupees One Lakh Only), dated 23/06/2015, drawn on the State Bank of India, Ravi Nagar Branch, Nagpur to the appellant-wife and has agreed to pay a sum of Rs.1,00,000/- (Rupees One Lakh Only) before 15/07/2015 and a further sum of Rs.1,00,000/- (Rupees One Lakh Only) before 15/08/2015 to the appellant-wife. The parties, in terms of the Joint Pursis, have settled all their claims and disputes and have agreed that no claim would be made henceforth by the parties against each other.

The appellant and the respondent are personally present in the Court today. The appellant-wife states that she has given up her claim in lieu of the amount of Rs.3,00,000/- (Rupees Three Lakh Only), which would be paid by the respondent-husband to her towards full and final settlement. The appellant-wife acknowledges the receipt of the demand draft of Rs.1,00,000/- (Rupees One Lakh Only), dated 23/06/2015. The respondent-husband is personally present in the Court and states that he would pay the amount of Rs.1,00,000/- (Rupees One Lakh Only) to the appellant-wife on or before 15/07/2015 and a further sum of Rs.1,00,000/- (Rupees One Lakh Only) to the appellant on or before 15/08/2015. We find on a reading of the terms in the Joint Pursis that the terms are just and reasonable.

Hence, the first appeal is disposed of on the terms mentioned in the Joint Pursis. A decree be drawn accordingly.
