Dated this the 23rd day of July, 2015

ORDER

The petitioner herein is the first accused in Crime No.50 of 2014 of the Thalayolaparambu Police Station. He seeks orders quashing the prosecution on the ground of amicable settlement of the whole dispute between him and the de facto complainant. The case against the second accused was split up in the committal Court itself and the case against the first accused was committed to the Court of Sessions. It is now pending as S.C.No.200 of 2015 of the Court of Sessions, Kottayam. Crime in this case was registered under Sections 294(b), 451, 506(i), 323 and 34 of Indian Penal code on the complaint of one Madhu, who is the 2nd respondent in this proceeding brought under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. He has filed affidavit to the effect that he has settled the whole dispute with the accused and he has no grievance or complaint now. The minor victim, who sustained the very simple injuries in the incident is the third respondent herein. The second respondent has settled the dispute as guardian of the third respondent and he has filed affidavit on behalf of the victim also.

2. In so many decisions, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that even in cases involving non-compoundable offences, the High Court can quash prosecution in pending proceedings, if the parties have really settled the whole dispute amicably out of court, and continuance of further prosecution will not serve any purpose in such a circumstance of amicable settlement. Here, I find a real and genuine case of settlement between the parties. This is not a case involving any public interest or public issue. The parties have come to terms amicably on the intervention of persons acceptable to both sides, and I am satisfied that the parties are now on quite cordial terms. In such a situation, continuance of the prosecution will not serve any purpose other than wasting the precious time of the court. No doubt, nobody will support the prosecution in such a situation, if the case goes to trial.

In the result, this petition is allowed. The prosecution against the petitioner herein in S.C.No.200 of 2015 of the Court of Sessions, Kottayam will stand quashed under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Accordingly, the petitioner will stand released from prosecution and the bail bond, if any, executed by him will stand discharged.
