This review petition is filed seeking to review judgment dated 10/6/2014. It is stated that the review petitioners have filed a review petition against Ext.P1 order of the Human Rights Commission. But presently no materials have been produced before this Court to indicate that the review petition is still pending.

2. Learned counsel appearing for the respondent/writ petitioner submits that their information is that no review petition is pending and they have also produced an information received from the Human Rights Commission stating that no such application is seen pending.

Review petition is, therefore, dismissed.
