The petitioner had obtained Clearance Certificate in a regular permit and contends that, he had produced the current records of the new vehicle as per Ext.P3 dated 20.03.2015. The learned Government Pleader on instruction submits that, the current records of the vehicle have not been produced and what is produced along with Ext.P3 is Ext.P5, which is only a temporary certificate of registration of the chassis and even the body is not built as of now. The current records specified in the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988 has to be understood to be the current records of the vehicle which is fit to be run on the roads. Herein admittedly, even now the body building is not completed. In such circumstance, there can be no direction issued as of

now. However, the petitioner would have his remedies left to produce the current records of the vehicle and take appropriate proceedings.

The writ petition would stand closed with liberty.
