The electoral roll remains frozen from 3.00 p.m. on the last date of making nominations until the completion of that election. [See Narendra Madivalapa Kheni v. Manikrao Patil and Ors. (AIR 1977 (SC) 2171)]. The last date for submitting nomination to the election was 14.10.2015. The electoral roll remains frozen after 3.00 p.m. on 14.10.2015. The grievance of the petitioner as regards the discrepancy in the voters list cannot be redressed at this stage.

2. There is also a bar to entertain this writ petition under Article 243 ZG of the Constitution of India. The petitioner is free to take up the issue of revision of electoral roll before the appropriate forum after the election. The petitioner is also free to question the election in any election petition if so filed. The writ Petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India is misconceived.

The writ Petition is dismissed.
