ORDER

(Order of the Court was made by The Hon'ble Chief Justice)

None can doubt the requirement of early justice, but the mismatch between the inflow of cases and the judges strength available makes the task difficult. The case management techniques undoubtedly help in improving the system and the learned counsel for the petitioner has handed over the consultation paper on Case Management of the Law Commission. These are all matters which have been examined on the Administrative Side, and the implementation of the process is already on.

2. We have, thus impressed upon the learned counsel for the petitioner that existence of the malady is not in doubt, but solutions have to be given to improve the management and the functioning of the system. Most importantly adequate judges strength is required which is often obstructed by the action of the bar.

3. The writ petition, accordingly, stands disposed of. No costs.
