(Made by The Hon'ble The Chief Justice)

The petitioner claims that the land was purchased and building constructed and on 28.6.2014, the eleven storeyed building under construction by the fifth respondent collapsed and fell on his house and other two houses nearby, resulting in serious damage. The petitioner claims compensation from the Government on account of loss to his property, which he has quantified at Rs.35,30,000/-. The petitioner has made a representation to the Government dated 28.07.2014.

2. We are, thus, of the view that the State Government may examine the representation of the petitioner in accordance with law within a maximum period of three months from today and pass its speaking order in respect thereof. We are sure that the Government would take a compassionate view of the matter to the extent possible. Needless to say that for any final relief, in case the petitioner is not satisfied with the decision of the Government, it can only be in civil proceedings, where by leading evidence, the exact compensation is quantified.

3. The petition accordingly stands disposed of. No costs.
