ORDER

(Order of the Court was made by The Hon'ble Chief Justice)

In the course of arguments on the last date of hearing, we put to the learned counsel for the petitioner that the writ petition was based merely on apprehensions. However, the learned counsel, who had to address the submissions expressed personal inconvenience and thus, the matter was adjourned to today.

2. Again a letter has been circulated stating that now the documents are sought to be collected to substantiate the plea in the matter and the matter may be adjourned.

3. We are not inclined to accede to the request. It cannot be said that first petition is filed, then material is collected in support of the petition, rather than the reverse.

4. We, thus, dismiss the writ petition as devoid of material particulars and supporting documents with leave that in case, the petitioner does find requisite materials, she can move the concerned authorities and if she is further aggrieved, approach the Court in accordance with law. No costs. Consequently, M.P.No.1 of 2015 is closed.
