

THE HON'BLE SRI JUSTICE T.SUNIL CHOWDARY

CRIMINAL PETITION No.3363 of 2015

ORDER:

This petition is filed under Section 482 Cr.P.C. to quash the proceedings in C.C.No.308 of 2014 on the file of the Judicial Magistrate of First Class, Jadcherla, Mahabubnagar District.

2. Heard the learned counsel for the petitioners and the learned Public Prosecutor.

3. A perusal of the record reveals that the petitioners, who are A.2 and A.3, are facing trial in C.C.No.308 of 2014 for the offences punishable under Section 498-A read with 34 I.P.C. and Sections 3 and 4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961.

4. As per the allegations made in the charge sheet, the petitioners along with accused No.1 have subjected the second respondent to cruelty for additional dowry and beat her.

5. Basing on the complaint of the second respondent, the Station House Officer, Jadcherla Police Station registered a case in Crime No.221 of 2014 for the offences punishable under Section 498-A read with 34 I.P.C. and Sections 3 and 4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act. After completion of the investigation, the Investigating Officer laid charge sheet against the petitioners and A.1 under the above referred sections. The learned Magistrate, after satisfying himself with the material available on record, has taken cognizance of offences against the petitioners and A.1 under Section 498-A read with 34 I.P.C. and Sections 3 and 4 of the Dowry Prohibition Act. A perusal of the record reveals that the learned Magistrate has not committed any irregularity or illegality while taking cognizance of the offences against the petitioners along with A.1. The allegations made in the charge sheet are prima facie sufficient to take cognizance of the offences against the petitioners. The material available on record is prima facie sufficient to proceed further against the petitioners.

6. In Madhu Limaye Vs. State of Maharashtra the Hon'ble Supreme Court held as under:

“At the outset the following principles may be noticed in relation to the exercise of inherent power of the High Court, which have been followed ordinarily and generally, almost invariably, barring a few exceptions.

1. That the power is not to be resorted to if there is a specific provision in the Code for the redress of the grievance of the aggrieved party;
2. That it should be exercised very sparingly to prevent abuse of process of any Court or otherwise to secure the ends of justice;
3. That it should not be exercised as against the express bar of law engrafted in any other provision of the Code.”

In Padal Venkata Rama Reddy @ Ramu Vs. Kovvuri Satyanarayana Reddy, the Hon’ble Supreme Court held as under:

13. It is well settled that the inherent powers under Section 482 can be exercised only when no other remedy is available to the litigant and not in a situation where a specific remedy is provided by the statute. It cannot be used if it is inconsistent with specific provisions provided under the Code (vide Kavita v. State {2000 Cri LJ 315 (Del)} and B.S. Joshi v. State of Haryana {(2003) 4 SCC 675}. If an effective alternative remedy is available, the High Court will not exercise its powers under this section, specially when the applicant may not have availed of that remedy.

7. Having regard to the facts and circumstances of the case and also the principle enunciated in the cases cited supra, I am of the considered view that it is not a fit case to quash the proceedings at this point of time.

8. The learned counsel for the petitioners submitted that the petitioners, who are residents of Ranga Reddy District, are facing much difficulty to attend the trial Court on each and every date of adjournment. The petitioners are aged about 65 and 58 years respectively. Hence, their presence may be dispensed with.

9. There is no dispute with regard to the identity of the petitioners. Even if the presence of the petitioners is dispensed with, no prejudice will be caused to the second respondent. Hence, the presence of the petitioners, who are accused Nos.2 and 3 in C.C.No.308 of 2014 on the file of the Judicial Magistrate of First Class, Jadcherla, Mahabubnagar District, is hereby dispensed with on each and every date of adjournment. However, they shall appear before the trial Court as and when their presence is so required.

10. With the above observations and direction, the Criminal Petition is dismissed.

11. Consequently, Miscellaneous Petitions, if any, pending in this Criminal Petition shall stand closed.
