MAHESH GROVER, J.

Prima facie a reading of the concluding para of the observations made by the Writ Court notices certain facts which need to be reconciled with the conclusion. This, in my view can be done only by the Writ Court.

Consequently, the present contempt petition is disposed of with liberty to the petitioners to make an appropriate application seeking clarification of the order passed by the Writ Court, if so advised. But in so far as the present Contempt Petition is concerned, the Court does not find any reason to proceed against the respondents. It may be noticed that the L.P.A. Bench has already granted status quo with a directive that a merit be prepared in accordance with the directions of the Writ Court.

In view of the above when the order of the L.P.A. Bench is in operation, no further orders would be required.
