

IN THE HIGH COURT OF PUNJAB AND HARYANA AT CHANDIGARH

COCP No.1923 of 2015 (O&M)

Date of Decision : 11.12.2015

Pannu

....Petitioner

Versus

Alaknanda Dayal and others

...Respondents

CORAM : HON'BLE MR.JUSTICE MAHESH GROVER

Present: Mr. Pawan Kumar Goklaney, Advocate for the petitioner.

MAHESH GROVER.J.

It is not disputed that interest component has also been satisfied thereby resulting in complete compliance of the order of this court.

Learned counsel for the petitioner, however, contends that there is a shortfall. If that is so, then the petitioner would be at liberty to approach the respondents for redressal of his grievance in this regard as on today it cannot be said that there is any reason to proceed with the contempt petition any further considering the broad compliance of the order of this Court.

Petition stands disposed of with the liberty aforesaid granted.
