MAHESH GROVER.J.

There is no reason to proceed against the respondent for having committed contempt of court. The order dated 24.12.2014 mandated expeditious consideration on the claim of the petitioner. He has merely served the notice in July 2015 and rushed to the court in September 2015. The petition is, therefore, dismissed with an expectation from the respondent that she will now decide the claim of the petitioner in terms of the order of the writ court within a period of four months from the date of receipt of certified copy of this order.
