Revision is against the order dismissing an application filed before the Permanent Lok Adalat for impleadment brought at the instance of the petitioner, a third party to a suit as an insurer. The claim before the Permanent Lok Adalat was for damages for alleged medical negligence. The Insurance Company sought its impleadment on a plea that the medical malpractice insurance has been taken with them and any award that may be passed will have an immediate bearing on them. I am of the view that impleadment ought to have been ordered. The order is set aside and the revision petition is allowed.
