Civil Revision No.4534 of 2015

1. The petitioner is justified in approaching the court that the Presiding Officer is taking affidavits of the witnesses as chief examination as if to make possible the commencement of trial, when the plaintiff has not even paid the court fee as directed. The court fee paid is still contested as not sufficient and the court shall not proceed with the trial or receive any affidavit from parties till the adjudication is completed by assessing the value of the property and if there is any deficit in court fee, collect the same or if the court fee paid already is sufficient, continue with the trial of the case on a day notified to parties. If the court fee is not paid as assessed, the court will reject the plaint in the manner contemplated under Order 7 Rule 11 CPC.

2. Revision petition is disposed of with the above observations.
