Mr. Vaibhav Narang, Advocate
for respondent No. 2/complainant.

JASWANT SINGH, J. (ORAL)

Present petition under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure on behalf of the husband and parents-in-law, is for quashing of FIR No. 239, dated 01.10.2014 (Annexure P-1) for offences punishable under Sections 406 and 498-A of the Indian Penal Code, registered at Police Station Sultanwind, District Amritsar City and all subsequent proceedings arising therefrom on the basis of compromise/settlement dated 28.01.2015 (Annexure P-2) arrived at between the parties.

As per allegations, inter alia, the complainant-Gurinder Kaur (respondent No. 2 herein) harassed by the petitioners/accused (husband and parents-in-law) for dowry and also thrown out her from matrimonial house.

Vide order dated 20.07.2015 and subsequent order dated 30.10.2015, this Court directed the learned Illaqa Magistrate/trial Court to send report with regard to compromise in pursuance of which, a report/letter No. 1833 dated 02.12.2015 has been received from the learned Chief Judicial Magistrate, Amritsar, which is taken on record as Mark-A. It is stated in the report that the complainant has arrived at a compromise with the accused-petitioners without any undue influence and pressure.

At the time of hearing, Rs. 2 lacs in terms of the compromise deed has been paid to the complainant, who is present in person and the same has been accepted.

Learned State Counsel, assisted by ASI Jaswinder Singh, submits that the matter is still under investigation.

Hon'ble Supreme Court in (2003) 4 SCC 675, B.S Joshi & Others Vs. State of Haryana & Another has made it explicitly clear in para 15 of its judgment that the High Court in exercise of its inherent powers can quash criminal proceedings or FIR or complaint and Section 320 of the Code does not limit or effect the powers under Section 482 of the Code.

A Full Bench of this Court in Kulwinder Singh and others v. State of Punjab and another, 2007(3) RCR (Criminal) 1052 has held that this Court, in appropriate cases, while exercising powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C., may quash an FIR disclosing the commission of non compoundable offences. The relevant extracts read as under:-

“ The only inevitable conclusion from the above discussion is that there is no statutory bar under the Cr.P.C., which can affect the inherent power of this Court under Section 482. Further, the same cannot be limited to matrimonial cases alone and the Court has the wide power to quash the proceedings even in non-compoundable offences notwithstanding the bar under Section 320 of the Cr.P.C., in order to prevent the abuse of law and to secure the ends of justice. ”

Hon'ble Apex Court in another case in J.T 2008(9) S.C 192, Nikhil Merchant Vs. Central Bureau of Investigation & Another while relying upon its decision in B.S. Joshi's case (supra) has also held that in view of the compromise arrived at between the parties, the technicalities should not be allowed to stand in the way in the quashing of criminal proceedings and the continuance of the same after compromise between the parties would be a futile exercise.

Similar views were expressed by Hon'ble the Apex Court in Madan Mohan Abot v. State of Punjab, 2008(4) SCC 582, the relevant extract of which is as under:-

“ We need to emphasise that it is perhaps advisable that in disputes where the question involved is of a purely personal nature, the court should ordinarily accept the terms of the compromise even in criminal proceedings as keeping the matter alive with no possibility of a result in favour of the prosecution is a luxury which the courts, grossly overburdened as they are, cannot afford and that the time so saved can be utilised in deciding more effective and meaningful litigation. This is a common sense approach to the matter based on ground of realities and bereft of the technicalities of the law. ”

Keeping in view the above settled legal position and taking into account the fact that both the parties have desired to live in peace and harmony and carry on with their lives without any ill will or rancour by resolving their differences and entering into the aforesaid compromise, it is evident that it is a fit case where there is no impediment in the way of the Court to exercise its inherent powers under Section 482 Cr.P.C., for quashing of the FIR in the interest of justice.

Accordingly, the present petition is allowed. The aforesaid FIR and all subsequent proceedings arising therefrom, are quashed qua the petitioners.

However, it is clarified that the parties would be bound by their respective terms and conditions of compromise deed and in case of violation, they shall make themselves liable to be hauled up in contempt proceedings.
