The petitioner seeks grant of regular bail in case FIR No.58, dated 19.4.2015, registered under Sections 15/61/85 of the NDPS Act, at Police Station Samana, District Patiala.

Counsel for the petitioner has argued that sequence of events as has been unfolded in the FIR is highly incredible. The alleged recovery is of 52 kgs of poppy husk which is marginally above non-commercial quantity and the petitioner deserves bail on these counts.

Learned Addl. A.G Punjab has argued that the entire family of the petitioner is involved in petty narcotic trade. She has further pointed out that the petitioner was convicted in an earlier FIR and was sentenced to one month imprisonment.

Keeping in view the entire factual matrix and without commenting upon the merits of the case, I am of the opinion that the petitioner does not deserve to be denied the benefit of regular bail. She has already undergone custody of 5 months and 20 days and the period which she has undergone would definitely be a deterrent from embarking on any such activity to her. Bail to the satisfaction of the trial Court.

Petition stands disposed of.
