M.M.S. BEDI, J. (ORAL)

A perusal of the record indicates that on May 27, 2015, the trial Court has dismissed the complaint filed by the private respondent under Section 138 of the Negotiable instruments Act on the basis of the statements of the parties as matter having been compromised. The legal effect of the compromise, as per provisions of Section 320 (8) Cr.P.C. is "acquittal". It was specifically ordered on May 27, 2015 that proceedings against the accused stood dropped.

In view of the said order, the order dated April 27, 2013 for declaring the petitioner a proclaimed offender, direction for initiating proceedings under Section 174 A IPC and proceedings under Section 299 Cr.P.C. stood merged in the final order and legally would be inoperative.

Counsel for the petitioner is not aware of the effective proceedings, if any, under Section 174 A IPC has been registered or the name of the petitioner is incorporated as a proclaimed offender, as per the Punjab Police Rules.

The petitioner is permitted to withdraw this petition at this stage with liberty to the petitioner to challenge the FIR, if it has been registered or challenge the status of the petitioner as a proclaimed offender and the FIR under Section 174 A IPC, if registered.

Petition is disposed of at this stage.
