State counsel submits that cancellation report is already prepared, but it was not filed because the present petition was pending in this Court.

It is not understandable that as to how submission of the cancellation report got stalled because of the filing of the present petition, though there was no restraint order by this Court. Rather, State should have filed cancellation report and made a request for dismissal of the present petition.

In any case, now it is directed that cancellation report if prepared be filed within one month from today.

In view of the above, the present petition is dismissed. However, if cancellation report is not filed for any other reason, the petitioners may request to revive the petition.

Disposed of.
