Present revision is directed against the order passed by Additional Sessions Judge, Tarn Taran whereby accused has been convicted for offence under Section 363 IPC and sentenced to undergo 5 months rigorous imprisonment.

FIR was lodged by the complainant-Manjit Kaur. She alleged that her minor daughter had been enticed and abducted by the accused. Resultantly, FIR No.32 dated 24.3.2014 under Sections 363, 366-A, 376 IPC and Section 4 of Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 was registered. Investigation ensued. After completion of investigation, challan was presented before Additional Sessions Judge, Tarn Taran. Prosecution examined as many as eight witnesses. In her statement under Section 313 Cr.P.C, accused pleaded innocence. Trial court, however, found him guilty only for offence under Section 363 IPC, daughter of complainant being minor at the relevant time. It thus, sentenced the accused to undergo 5 months rigorous imprisonment. The court did not find it a fit case to release the petitioner on probation. It, however, reduced the sentence to that already undergone by him.

Aggrieved, present revision has been filed. Stand of the petitioner is that there was clear cut evidence before the court to convict the accused under other offences as well. I find no merit in the plea. Admittedly, daughter of the complainant and accused are living together. There is no ground to interfere in revisional jurisdiction.

Dismissed.
