Prayer in this petition filed under Article 226/227 of the Constitution of India r/w Section 3 of Punjab Good Conduct Prisoner (Temporary Release) Act, 1962 is for grant of eight (8) weeks emergency parole to the petitioner on medical ground.

Learned counsel for the petitioner contends that the petitioner requires parole to get his daughter treated in hospital.

Learned State counsel submits that earlier the petitioner was released on four weeks' parole on 16.4.2015 and on completion of parole period, he has surrendered on 15.5.2015 in the Jail. As per the Punjab Good Conduct (Temporary Release) Act, 1962, he is entitled for the next parole on 15.10.2015 and the petitioner is not entitled for parole at this stage as he has already availed 04 weeks parole from 16.4.2015 to 15.05.2015. Learned State counsel further submits that there is provision of emergency parole of maximum 02 weeks and if the petitioner intends to avail the said period, he may approach the jail authority for grant of two weeks emergency parole.

Faced this situation, learned counsel for the petitioner does not press the present petition enabling him to move such an application for grant of two weeks emergency parole. In case, such application is made within one week, the respondent shall consider and decide the said application within another week in accordance with law.

Petition is disposed of.
