Prayer in the present petition filed under Articles 226 and 227 of the Constitution of India, is for issuance of direction to the respondents to release/reimburse the medical expenses incurred by the petitioner for the treatment of his wife.

At the very outset, the learned counsel for the petitioner submits that though the entire amount has been reimbursed to the petitioner, however, no interest has been granted on the delayed payment.

In view of the above fact situation, the present petition is disposed of with liberty to the petitioner to move appropriate representation before the competent authority for the interest on delayed payment of medical reimbursement, which shall be decided by the respondents expeditiously, in accordance with law.

Disposed of.
