

01.04.2003 to 03.03.2005 of Baghera Singh, brother of Major Singh. All this clearly establish that the amount of consideration has changed hands. The reason advanced for such an action to have been taken by Major Singh was to help his brother Baghera Singh, who had to pay a loan which he had taken from the Bathinda Cooperative Bank, Pathrala. This answers the questions raised by the counsel for the appellants.

There is no merit in the present appeal and, therefore, the same stands dismissed.

It may be added that no substantial question of law is involved in this case which would merit admission of this case.
