HEMANT GUPTA, J.

Challenge in the present writ petition was to the sale deed executed by the petitioners in favour of the private respondents. This Court on 21.7.2015 directed the petitioners to deposit the sale consideration along with interest thereon from the date of execution of the sale deeds. The petitioners have deposited the said amount. The writ petition filed by the petitioners was dismissed on 24.2.2015 with the direction that amount, if any, deposited by the petitioners shall be refunded to them with accretion thereto, if any, on an application made by them.

The grievance of the petitioners is that the amount deposited by the petitioners is being refunded by the office but without any interest thereon.

We find that there was no direction by this Court on 21.7.2014 to deposit the amount in an interest bearing account. In the absence of such direction, the amount deposited by the petitioners could not have been deposited with interest. There cannot be any accretion on the amount deposited by the petitioners if any interest has fraudulently been paid.

Therefore, the issue raised is disposed of with the direction to the office to comply with the order dated 24.2.2015 forthwith.
