AUGUSTINE GEORGE MASIH, J. (ORAL)

Counsel for the appellants has argued the case and what has come out of his assertions is that the findings recorded by the Courts below in the civil suit will be binding upon the appellants as also the revenue authorities and, therefore, this has virtually rendered the proceedings infructuous before the revenue authorities.

This contention of counsel for the appellants, in the considered view of the Court, is misplaced as the Courts below have specifically stated that the matter regarding correction of the entries in the revenue record is pending consideration before the revenue authorities. If that is the position, it goes without saying that the findings, which have been recorded by the Courts below, are only on the basis of evidence, which was produced by the parties and it has also been mentioned that the proceedings before the revenue authorities being pending would not be effected as far as the present proceedings are concerned. The apprehension of learned counsel for the appellant-defendants is, therefore, misplaced. The revenue authorities, on the basis of the evidence to be produced by the parties, will proceed to decide the matter independently.

With these observations, the Appeal stands dismissed.

Since the Appeal stands dismissed, C.M. No.7354 C of 2014, seeking stay of the impugned judgements and decree and also dispossession of the appellants from the suit land is also dismissed.
