1. Allowed subject to just exceptions.

FAO 425/2015 and CM No.30354/2015 (Stay)

2. This is an appeal against order dated 05.10.2015, passed by the trial court in an application under Section 34 of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996, filed by the petitioner.

2.1 By virtue of the said application, the appellant challenged the award dated 09.12.2000, which was, evidently, corrected by the learned arbitrator on 06.01.2001. This award was passed exparte, as according to the arbitrator, despite notice, there was no appearance.

2.2 Before the trial court, the appellant had challenged the award, (as noted in paragraph 7 of the impugned judgment) on the ground, that no notice of appointment of the arbitrator was received, and that, the vehicle lease agreement dated 10.10.1995 (in short the lease agreement) was not signed by him in his capacity as a guarantor.

2.3 It was thus stated in support of this objection that the appellant had signed the lease agreement only in his capacity as the Managing Director of the lessee company i.e. M/s. Akshay Lease Investo India Pvt. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to ALIPL).

3. To be noted, under the aforementioned lease agreement, the appellant had obtained a loan for a vehicle bearing the following description :-

“Maruti Van Model 1993 bearing registration No.DL2CE 4046”

4. The loan was advanced, admittedly, by the respondent company.

5. In this, rather short background, before me, the objection is confined, by Ms. Arora, to only one aspect out of the two referred to above, that is, the lease agreement was signed by the appellant only in his capacity as the Managing Director of the lessee company.

5.1 A perusal of the lease agreement shows that both in the opening part of the lease agreement and in clause 36, there is a reference to the guarantor i.e. the appellant. The trial court has, also, noticed this aspect of the matter. For the sake of convenience, extracts of the lease agreement including the opening part and clause 36 are reproduced hereinbelow :-

“VEHICLE LEASE AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT OF LEASE made at New Delhi on this 10th October day of 1995 between Chaudhary Credits and Securities (P) Ltd., a Company incorporated under the Companies Act, having its office at Empire Plaza, Flat No.210-212, Mehrauli Gurgaon Road, Sultanpur, New Delhi, hereinafter referred to as Lessor of the First Part; and M/s. through its various clauses including the clause related to the obligation of the guarantor. If what the appellant portrays before me is correct, he should have scored out the said clause which would have been the normal reaction of an ordinary and prudent man. The signature by the appellant on lease agreement are admittedly put alongwith the seal, which describes his designation as Managing Director. The appellant by appending his signature on the lease agreement adorned two hats. He acted for the lessee company (i.e. ALIPL), as also, for himself; there being no provision for a separate agreement qua the guarantor.

8. I have also asked the learned counsel for the appellant as to whether the principal debtor (i.e. the lesee company), had challenged the award. The learned counsel for the appellant submits that the principal debtor has not challenged the award and that its business stands closed. This fact, however, has not been pleaded in the appeal.

8.1 Furthermore, the learned counsel has not been able to tell me, as to, what is the exact legal status of the lessee company i.e. ALIPL. To my mind, the present appeal has only been filed to avoid a liability owed to the respondent company. A guarantor's liability is ordinarily, in law, co-extensive with that of the principal debtor unless it is provided otherwise by the contract. Clause 36 of the lease agreement clearly states that guarantor's liability is continuing and co-extensive with that of the principal debtor.

9. For all these reasons, I find no merit in the appeal. The appeal and the pending application are accordingly, dismissed.
