CORAM: HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE AJAY KUMAR TRIPATHI
ORAL JUDGMENT

Date: 27-07-2016

Two sets of writ applications have been filed by the petitioners, who obviously have not been recommended for appointment on the post of Assistant Manager in the examination conducted by the Bihar Combined Competitive Examination Board. They are seeking quashing of the result contained in Annexure-19 on many a grounds, which shall be noticed in subsequent part of the order.

2. By virtue of Annexure-3 an advertisement was issued for filling up 407 posts of Assistant Manager and 50 posts of Assistant Accountant. Competitive examination was held and after the conduct of the written examination the Combined Competitive Examination Board (hereinafter the Board) placed on the website the model questions and answers, inviting objections, if any, from the candidates. Objections were raised and received. The objections were collated and placed before a team of experts who did find some of the objections to be valid either as to the correctness of the questions or the answers. The final evaluation was done on the basis of the corrected and agreed questions and answers and the results have been published. After the publication of the result these petitioners have rushed to the Court on the ground that not all objections raised by the petitioners with regard to the correctness of the questions or answers have been fairly entertained. There are still some questions or answers which are wrong and because of those errors fair marking could not be done and some of these petitioners have missed out very narrowly may be by a couple of marks.

3. In addition to the above objections, petitioners also alleged that the evaluation too has not been done fairly. The OMR sheets have not been properly corrected; therefore, the end result which has been published of various candidates does not reflect the correct position with regard to the marks so awarded. In support thereof, some samples of OMR sheets have also been brought on record.

4. Yet another line of submission is that from the result published it is evident that there are many a candidates who were allowed to participate in the said examination even without having the necessary qualification laid down for the post of Assistant Manager where the qualification is either an MBA or a PGDBM from a recognized University or an Institution having recognition from AICTE.

5. There are other instances cited where candidates who were over-age have also been permitted to participate in the examination. The Competitive Examination Board should have ensured that all such ineligible candidates should have been prevented from participation in the examination in the very first place.

6. It was in this background that the Court restrained the respondents Bihar State Food and Civil Supplies Corporation from accepting the joining of the successful candidates which was scheduled for 29th June, 2016. However, it transpires now that 29th June, 2016 was the last date of joining and that the joining had been permitted between 24th June till 29th June, 2016 and many of those successful candidates had already given their joining before passing of the order on 28/06/2016.

7. The respondents were directed to file their affidavit in opposition and explain their stand and conduct in view of the disquiet caused with regard to the manner in which the examination was conducted or the result declared.

8. In the counter affidavit filed on behalf of respondent No.2 i.e. the Bihar State Food and Civil Supplies Corporation, they do accept that advertisement was issued for appointment to be made in the Corporation. A requisition was sent in this regard to the Bihar Combined Competitive Examination Board to conduct the examination. The Board after conduct of examination very fairly published the model questions and answers and invited objections. The outcome of the exercise done on the objections and the position emerges as under from their counter affidavit :

“(x) That in respect to objection as raised by the petitioners regarding answers provided by the question setters (made available on website prior to finalizing the merit list) the expert team after thorough verification of each and every questions of Question Booklet Set-A recommended correct answers and their recommended answers were used to evaluate the OMR answer sheets of each examines by the computer using standard software. The details regarding the correction as made by the expert team are given here under:-

Questions Nos. of Booklet (Set-A)	Answer provided by setters/ uploaded on website	Correct Answer recommended by expert team	Answer of petitioner given in writ petition
5	D	C	C
21	A	D	D
24	B	A	A
27	B	D	D
62	A	B	B
90	C	D	D
94	B	A	A
73,82 & 84		Same provided as by setters

In response of the objections raised by the petitioners with regard to question no. 73, 82 and 84, the expert team did not recommend any change, resulting which the answers remained the same as were provided by the question setters and uploaded on the website.”

9. After the publication of the result on the basis of the above questions and answers, objections were also received with regard to many a candidates regarding their eligibility, qualification etc.. This led to constitution of a 5-Member Committee by the Managing Director of the Bihar State Food and Civil Supplies Corporation to carefully go through the status especially with regard to eligibility etc. of all the candidates whose results had been published. On the basis of the report submitted by the 5-Member Committee, a copy of which is Annexure A and B, a notice was also published in the daily newspaper “Hindustan” dated 24/06/2016 informing all the candidates as to their status. The Corporation decided to give an opportunity of hearing to all the candidates who were put in the ineligible category for one reason or the other, whose roll numbers etc. have been clearly indicated in the newspaper advertisement, contained in Annexure-C to the counter affidavit.

10. It is evident from perusal of Annexure-A that only 291 candidates were found to be eligible in all respect for the post of Assistant Manager and only 40 candidates were found to be eligible for the post of Assistant Accountant. It is only those candidates on whom there is no controversy raised in the enquiry report that they were permitted to report and join.

11. The Combined Competitive Examination Board has also filed detailed counter affidavit which is on behalf of respondent Nos. 5 and 6. In addition to that, there is also reply to supplementary affidavit on behalf of respondents No. 5 and 6 to the second supplementary affidavit of the petitioners.

They too explain the modality and the manner in which objections were entertained and how consensus with regard to certain questions were reached and on the recommendation of the team of experts final results came to be published.

12. Counsel for the Competitive Examination Board submits that petitioners have unnecessarily tried to create an impression that all has not been well in the manner in which examination and evaluation have been done, which is a motivated kind of effort after they failed to qualify. Whatever has been done has been done in an open and fair manner and the evaluation has been done on the basis of the consensus reached with regard to the correctness or otherwise of some of the questions or the answers.

13. The irony of the matter is that even on those questions or answers on which objection is being raised by some of the petitioners, they have given the correct answer and they have also been awarded marks and they have derived benefit thereof. How do petitioners gain by raising such objections is not understood or appreciated. In fairness of things the Examination Board has also brought the answer sheets and the evaluation chart of each and every petitioners to show where they stand. The annexures annexed with the reply of second supplementary affidavit, which are Annexure I and J series tell all.

14. The objections with regard to the evaluation of the OMR sheets also have been explained by the respondents. Despite clear instructions given to the candidates not to overwrite, erase or modify already answered questions, many a candidates have marked the options twice over or they have tried to change the answer as an after-thought and that is where the problem has arisen in optical evaluation of the OMR sheets. All such answers will obviously throw up result against such candidates as wrong answers and now they are trying to make out as if the fault lies with the manner in which evaluation has been done.

15. The Court is also informed that the evaluation of the OMR sheets are done twice over by two different computers only to re-verify and make it doubly sure that no mechanical error has crept in evaluation of the answers and in award of marks.

16. The Court gave a very detailed hearing and examined the objections of petitioners with regard to the correct questions and answers as well as evaluation and has come to a considered opinion that this objection cannot form the basis for quashing of the results or interfering with the recommendation made for appointments. The objective and fair approach has been taken. There are many a publications floating in the market some of them are even sub-standard. Those publications obviously cannot be relied upon in coming to a conclusion about the correctness of the questions or the answers set. The opinion of the experts will have to be relied upon and this has been done. The Board has, in fact, further analyzed the recommendations of the experts and with regard to three questions they were in agreement with the answers provided by the setters which the Court opines has been correctly done.

17. No doubt, from perusal of the report of the 5-Member Committee which is Annexure A to the counter affidavit of respondent No.2, there is evidence that some of the qualified candidates whose results were initially published were either not eligible or objections were raised with regard to their qualification as to the equivalence of their degrees which they have. To be fair to the Corporation they have carried out an exercise and they did segregate such doubtful candidates and have not been recommended for appointment at this juncture. The Corporation has decided to give an opportunity to them to establish their bona fide relating to the qualification or other eligibility and steps have also been taken by seeking response from the concerned authorities including AICTE as to the validity or equivalence of some of the degrees which those candidates claim to be equivalent to an MBA or PGDBM. That is why out of 407 vacancies advertised for the post of Assistant Manager only 291 candidates have been recommended and out of 50 posts of Assistant Accountant only 40 candidates have been recommended at this juncture.

18. In view of the above as also taking into consideration that the Examination Board does not prevent or bar candidates from participation by scrutinizing their eligibility at the threshold. They go by the declaration made by a candidate. The appointing authority, therefore, has to do a close scrutiny before making any appointment with regard to the eligibility or otherwise of a candidate. Mere recommendation by itself does not create a right in favour of any person. It is always subject to fulfilling the eligibility laid down in the advertisement.

19. The Court, therefore, only hopes that all those candidates who have been provisionally recommended or placed in the category of ineligible or those whose technical qualification, age etc. is required to be verified, will be fairly done and the Corporation will make sure that no candidate who otherwise lacks eligibility on any front finally gets appointed.

20. The Court, in fact, must express its disquiet against the petitioners since they tried to create such a big hype against the exercise so carried out for such appointment as if every thing was done with a motive and objective. The fact and evidence brought on record do not suffice in casting a doubt with regard to the above selection. They have miserably failed on close scrutiny. The materials cannot lead to quashing or annulling the selection or the result so published.

21. Writ applications, therefore, are dismissed.

22. The order of restraint passed earlier by the Court stands vacated.

23. The Corporation will go ahead with the appointment of 291 candidates recommended for Assistant Manager and 40 candidates for Assistant Accountant. For the rest it will be subject to deliberation which is contemplated.
