Re.: CWJC No. 4272 of 2015

This Court has taken suo motu notice on the basis of endorsement made by the Hon'ble Judge of this Court in respect of “the sad state of affairs pertaining to the religious institutions under the control of Religious Trust Board”.

Though the respondents have not been served, but many Interlocutory applications have been filed by the persons alleging therein that they are the owners of the land in question.

Since the rival claimants are claiming title over the land in question, we refrain ourselves from examining the allegations whether the land is encroached or not. The aggrieved parties are free to take recourse to alternative remedy in accordance with law.

Consequently, the Interlocutory Applications and the writ application are disposed of with liberties to the parties to take recourse to such other remedy, which the parties may wish to avail in accordance with law.
