CORAM: HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE MUNGESHWAR

ORAL ORDER

2      22-12-2016              It is submitted that respondent nos.1 and 2 have wrongly been made party in the present civil miscellaneous application as this application arises out of matrimonial suit filed by the husband-petitioner.

Heard learned counsel for the petitioner and perused the impugned order dated 01.02.2016 passed by Principal Judge, Family Court, Araria in Matrimonial Case No.282 of 2015 whereby the learned Principal Judge, Family Court in exercise of jurisdiction under Section 24 of the Hindu Marriage Act directed the husband-petitioner to pay Rs.2,000/- per month as maintenance to the wife-respondent.

Considering the quantum of maintenance i.e.Rs.2,000/- per month it cannot be said that the quantum fixed by the court is excessive, arbitrary or that the order passed by the court below is not according to law.

Thus, I find no jurisdictional error and in exercise of supervisory jurisdiction this Court cannot hold panchayati and fix the quantum of maintenance under Section 24 of the Hindu Marriage Act particularly in this case considering day to day expenses in these days.

Accordingly, this civil miscellaneous application is dismissed.
