CORAM : B.P. DHARMADHIKARI & KUM. INDIRA K. JAIN, JJ.

DATED : JULY 25, 2016.

Heard.

The applicant-petitioner is in person along with his learned counsel Shri Chauhan. Learned counsel Shri Chauhan informs that he has proper discussion with the applicant-petitioner and the applicant-petitioner has instructed him to withdraw both these applications. Accordingly, affidavit sworn by the applicant-petitioner has been presented to the Court.

Learned counsel Shri Chauhan submits that after orders of this Court dated 12.10.2015 in Contempt Petition No.224 of 2014, the applicant-petitioner learnt that the disciplinary authority has passed orders on 21.6.2014. He has still not received copy thereof. Learned counsel Shri Chauhan, therefore, seeks a direction to the disciplinary authority to supply the copy.

Learned counsel Shri Anand Parchure appearing for the disciplinary authority is seeking time to obtain instructions. He, however, states that the copy of that order must have been already sent to the applicant-petitioner.

Learned counsel Shri Anand Parchure without prejudice states that if the applicant-petitioner reports at Kings Way Branch of the respondent Bank at Nagpur on 26.7.2016 at 11:00 am, copy of order shall be supplied to him. Learned counsel Shri Chauhan submits that the applicant-petitioner shall accordingly report in the said branch and receive the copy.

The applicant-petitioner needs copy of order to avail remedy of appeal against it. As such, issue of limitation is going to be of some importance. Hence, without recording any finding on question, whether earlier copy of order has been sent to the applicant-petitioner or whether it is received by him or not, we direct respondents/disciplinary authority to supply one more copy of the said order to the applicant-petitioner. Acceptance of such copy by the applicant-petitioner shall be without prejudice to his contention and it will be open to him to demonstrate that such copy was never earlier sent or received.

Thus, keeping all rival contentions open and with these directions, we dispose of these civil applications as withdrawn.
