This matter was adjourned repeatedly on several occasions at the instance of the appellants. Despite the fact that request for adjournment was seriously opposed by the Counsel for the respondents on early occasion, this Court was so lenient on the earlier occasion and adjourned the matter to give opportunity to the Counsel for appellants to argue the matter on merits. When the matter came up for hearing on 23.11.2016 under the caption 'for orders', adjournment was sought for by the counsel for the appellant and hence, the matter was directed to be posted either for disposal on merits or for dismissal. Even today, the learned counsel submits that he is not ready and the matter may be adjourned by two weeks. This Court, having regard the fact that the matter is pending for a long time and several adjournments having been given by this Court, is not inclined to adjourn the matter. Since the counsel for the appellants is not ready, the Second Appeal is dismissed for non-prosecution. There is no order as to costs.
