Instant civil revision has been filed under Article 227 of the Constitution of India read with Section 151 C.P.C. for setting aside the impugned order dated 17.02.2014 (Annexure P/1) passed by learned Additional District Judge, Sangrur.

Learned counsel for the parties state that parties are agreed that status quo, which has already been granted vide order dated 07.03.2014, shall be maintained by them till the decision of the suit by the trial Court, however, the trial Court be directed to conclude the proceedings in a time bound manner.

In view of the above statement made by learned counsel for the parties, instant revision petition is disposed of with a direction to the trial Court to decide the suit within nine months after giving three opportunities to the plaintiff and equal number of opportunities to the defendants for leading evidence. In addition, the plaintiff shall also be given one opportunity to lead rebuttal evidence. It is made clear that each opportunity shall not be for a period over one month. In case, the petitioner fails to conclude his evidence within three opportunities, then status quo order would be automatically deemed to have been vacated.
