1. There is no justification for the defendant to arrive before this court to complain that the court has closed his evidence without affording sufficient opportunity. If the defendant is aggrieved and points out to the justification why he could not bring his evidence on the day when the matter was posted, he is at liberty to make out such case before the trial court itself. If such a request is made, the court shall consider the same and pass appropriate orders including an order to reopen the case and allow for further evidence to be given.

2. Civil revision is disposed of on the above terms.
