RAJESH BINDAL,J.

Learned counsel for the petitioners states that inspite of having made certain written communications to the petitioners, no response has been received from them and, therefore, she is unable to apprise this Court as to whether something survives in the petition or not. She further states that writ petition be disposed of as infructuous and liberty be granted to the petitioners to move an application for revival of the writ petition, in case something survives therein.

Learned State counsel has no objection to the same.

In view of the above, the present writ petition is disposed of as infructuous. However, liberty is granted to the petitioners to move an application for revival of the present writ petition, in case something survives therein.
