The petitioner was granted interim bail. The parties were also sent for mediation but the matter could not be settled as the demand raised during mediation was stated to be very high.

Learned State counsel submits that all the articles have not been recovered.

Learned counsel for the petitioner pointed out that the locker was operated by the complainant on 21.12.2012 and she left the matrimonial home on the next day and all the articles had been sent to the police through Express Packers & Movers. The counsel refers to Annexure P-5. It was urged that it was not a case of dowry demand and there were temperamental issues.

The petitioner has joined the investigation, the petition is allowed and interim order dated 19.02.2014 is hereby made absolute subject to the condition that the petitioner will join the investigation as and when required by the police and will not tamper with evidence or hamper the investigation and will not leave India without permission of the Court and will comply with the conditions contained in Section 438(2) Cr.P.C.
