2. Whether to be referred to the Reporters or not ?

Kuldip Singh, J. (Oral):

Learned counsel for the petitioner presses the present revision only on the point of quantum of sentence. Custody certificate filed in the Court and same is taken on record. It shows that the petitioner has undergone actual imprisonment of four months and four days and with remission, he has undergone imprisonment of five months and eight days. The petitioner was sentenced to undergo simple imprisonment for one year for an offence punishable under Section 304-A IPC and fine of Rs.2,000/-, in default thereof, SI for three months. He was also sentenced to simple imprisonment for three months for the offence punishable under Section 279 IPC.

In this case, one person lost his life due to rash and negligent driving of the truck by the present petitioner. Out of the maximum imprisonment of two years which could be awarded under Section 304-A IPC, the courts below have awarded only one year SI. I am of the view that no further leniency is warranted.

Dismissed.
