FAO No.4209 of 2014

1. The appeal is for enhancement of claim for compensation for injuries suffered in a motor accident. The Tribunal has provided for entire amount of ₹2,79,737/- spent for medical expenses for surgery and hospitalization. The doctor who had examined him informed the Court 10 months later when the trial was taking place that at the time of discharge a month later, he required support of two persons to walk him down and he was still on ryle's tube feed. The Tribunal has provided for ₹50,000/- as the compensation towards pain and suffering and all other charges including attendant and transportation charges. I do not think in a situation where there is no medical evidence brought on any persistent medical disability that there was scope for further enhancement. I find none.

2. The appeal is dismissed.
