Present appeal has been preferred by appellant dissatisfied with the compensation granted by the Tribunal.

The accident occurred on 2.7.2012. The Tribunal found that driver of the offending vehicle was at fault. It thus proceeded to describe the quantum of compensation payable to appellant and awarded a sum of ₹ 75,000/- as compensation along with interest @ 6% per annum. It is denied before the court that appellant has not been paid anything on account of transportation, special diet, attendant, pain and suffering though he remained admitted in the hospital for 12 days.

In my considered opinion, appellant is entitled to ₹ 20,000/- for transportation & special diet and another sum of ₹ 30,000/- shall be payable to appellant for pain and suffering undergone after he was hospitalized.

Appeal is partly allowed in these terms. Award of the tribunal is modified to this extent. Enhanced amount shall be payable from the date, the claim petition was filed till realization.
